

Summary of News.

Vermont.

VERMONT factories turn out 600,000 snow-shovels annually.

E. J. WARD of Pittsford died at Burlington last week Monday from an overdose of morphine.

CLARK MOUTON of Holland was found frozen to death in a field in that town on Friday, January 18.

Religious services in the Swedish language are held at Proctor every Sunday morning by a regular settled Swedish minister.

JAMES TAYLOR, aged ten, fell off the rear end of a load of timber at Rutland, and before he could recover himself was trampled upon by a team that followed closely behind. It is feared that the boy was fatally injured.

MRS. LUCIA J. WILKINSON, forty-nine, of North Clarendon, was found by her daughter one day last week lying on her face in front of her house dead. A shoveling near showed that she had been shoveling snow.

JOHN HALO, who keeps a confectionery store in Burlington, has received a White Cap notice, ornamented with the usual skull and cross-bones, coffin, etc., warning him to leave town immediately because of some alleged scandal.

WILLIAM HOSKINSON of Townshend was recently pouring melted lead into a wooden mold, when sufficient steam was generated in the green wood to cause an explosion. The hot lead was thrown in the face of the boy and his eyes were terribly burned.

The passenger station and freight depot at Fair Haven were burned January 31. The telegraph, express and ticket-office and most of the contents were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $3,000. Seven freight cars narrowly escaped, being drawn away while burning.

WILLIAM WORTHINGTON has brought a suit against the Central Vermont railroad for $20,000 for personal injuries. He was knocked from an excursion train last summer near Brooksville by a coupling-link. He was laid up for several months and has never fully recovered.

The returns from the state board of health show that the mortality for the entire state is sixteen deaths in the 1,000. Rutland's mortality is 12 to 130. St. Johnsbury's 173, Burlington's 241, Brattleboro's 25, 340, St. Albans' 12, 910, Montpelier's 13, 910, Bellows Falls' 27, 910, Bennington's 14, 610.

The wife and four children of Patrick Mangan of Rutland had a narrow escape from suffocation by coal-gas Sunday morning of last week. Mangan, who was shoveling and found the house full of the gas and his wife and children unconscious. A physician succeeded, after an hour's work, in saving the lives of all.

The conductors who were recently discharged by the Central Vermont Company are watching with interest the result of the test case brought by a discharged conductor from the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg road against that company to recover the wages withheld to make reparation for amounts said to have been stolen.

JOSEPH, ROBERT and EUGENE BELVILLE, three brothers, were arrested Thursday by Deputy-sheriffs Stearns and Whitaker in Winhall, a small lumbering town about fifteen miles east of Manchester, on indictments found against them by the grand jury at the last session of the county court. The nature of the indictments has not yet been made public.

A DEPOSIT of tale has been discovered in a mountain about a mile from Chittenden. It is of pure quality and is worth $25 a ton. Two carloads have already been shipped to Glens Falls, where it is used in finishing paper. A company has been formed, composed mostly of Orwell men, and is making extensive preparations to operate the mine. A mill will be built at Orwell, and $30,000 worth of machinery has been ordered, to be used in crushing the stone.

The young grandson of William Thompson, a Milton farmer, amused himself one day last week by soaking the caudal appendage of the family dog in kerosene and setting the same on fire. The canine naturally became nervous, as the torch in his rear began to warm up, and made sundry ineffectual efforts to run away from his tail. In the course of his gyrations he connected with a row of sticks, which immediately took fire and were consumed, entailing a loss of $150. The dog is still at large.

PENSIONS have been granted to Vermonters as follows: Thomas F. Dwyer of Waterbury, Edwin H. Dana of Waitsfield, O. P. Dunham of Barton, Landing, Nelson Beach of Waterbury, Duane A. Grant of Waterbury, George C. Fulham of Stowe, Charles B. Corliss of Duxbury, E. A. Parker of Bethel, Charles E. White of Barre, Thomas J. Robinson of Stowe, Charles P. Bartlett of Newbury, William H. C. Foster of Rochester, V. M. Montfort of Peacham, Daniel Davis of West Bolton, Marcus M. Rice of St. Albans, Hugh Green of St. Albans.

A MEETING of the Vermont commissioners for the Washington centennial was held in Burlington on Tuesday of last week. A resolution was adopted requesting the adjutant-general to ascertain the number of troops that will attend the celebration, and upon what conditions, and instructing the quartermaster-general to ascertain the amount of money necessary to be raised. The commission will send the entire National Guard of Vermont, if possible. The money to meet the expenses will be raised by popular subscription. The immediate work of arranging the necessary details for carrying out the plan of the commission was placed in the hands of an executive committee, consisting of Hon. Levi K. Fuller of Brattleboro, General T. S. Peck of Burlington, General W. H. Gilmore of Fairlee and Colonel C. S. Forbes of St. Albans. This sub-committee is to report to the president of the commission, Governor Smith. The prospect at this time is very promising for the attendance at the celebration of the First Regiment, the First Separate Battalion, the Fuller Light Battery, the governor and staff, the brigade commander and staff and a band of forty pieces.

The White Caps have appeared at West Rutland, leaving several threatening notices that spread terror among the recipients. These admonitions, advising reform in personal conduct or departure from the neighborhood, have been tacked on the houses of several citizens, and it has often been hinted that the morals of the "West-siders" were in the best. The nature of the remarks on the posters is something as follows: "You had better leave town within five days, or you will receive a visit from some one you don't want to see." "S. Maynard was one of the first on the list, and was advised to leave. He will not do so, however, but has bought a shotgun and made other preparations to defend his home. Two young men named Reed were recipients of similar warnings, but have made no move toward obedience. The White Caps have posted Wallingford in the same way, and H. C. Cole received this note—written in red: "H. C. Cole, let the Jamaica ginger business alone and mind your own business, or we will give you a call. (Signed) White Caps." Danby was visited last week Sunday night, and the next morning the prominent citizens were told by notes to desist from certain practices or suffer a skull and cross-bones was painted in red ink at the bottom.

Domestic.

The Rand-Avery printing establishment in Boston was sold by auction last week.

THREE boys broke through the ice and were drowned while skating at Paterson, N. J., on Friday.

The electoral votes of all the states except Florida were received by the vice-president last week Monday.

JOHN E. SULLIVAN, the town clerk of Marion, Ohio, is in Canada. About $100,000 of the town's money is accompanying him on his tour.

A PASSENGER train was thrown from the track and overturned near Chesney, Ind. The thirty-six passengers were tumbled in a heap, but no one was killed.

Two men, named Matthew Salade and Powell Eckmeyer, were knocked overboard and drowned in a ferry-boat collision on the East river, New York, last week Tuesday.

TEN men were seriously scalded by the bursting of a steam-pipe on the steamer "Republic" at her dock in New York last night. Two of the victims died of their injuries.

It is assured on apparently trustworthy authority that President Harrison has offered the secretaryship of the treasury to Senator Allison and that the offer has been declined.

JOHN HOFFMAN, a young German of Staten Island, committed suicide last week in a most determined manner. He hung himself to a beam in his barn by a halter and shot himself through the temple.

G. G. MAUDER, an editor of Mt. Horeb, Wisconsin, was called to his door Friday night and shot through the left lung by an unknown party. Mauder had been fighting the saloon interest, and it is thought that the shooting was an act of revenge.

Two faith-cure apostles were driven from Pierre, Minn., last week by indignant citizens. An infant child died under their care, the attending having been refused to see it. The couple then spent two days attempting to bring about the child's resurrection.

JOHN M. CLAYTON of Plummerville, Arkansas, a prominent political leader in the southwest, was assassinated last Tuesday night. It is supposed to be a political murder, as Clayton was contesting a seat in congress against the democratic candidate, C. R. Brockenridge.

THERE was a lively time at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fitchburg railroad at Boston last week Tuesday. The report of the directors was severely criticized and referred to an investigating committee. The old board of directors was re-elected, however.

LAST week Tuesday a passenger train struck one of the large iron doors at the western portal of Hoosac Tunnel. It struck the engine, completely stripping the right side and killing the engineer, C. F. Moor. The door had been opened by the gateman, but had been shut by the wind.

A FIRE broke out in the business portion of Buffalo, N. Y., Sunday morning and consumed over nine acres of buildings, including two hotels. The loss is estimated at $5,000,000. One fireman was killed and seventeen persons injured. The loss has thrown 1,000 men out of employment. Most of the buildings will be rebuilt at once.

JOHN NEWCOMB, a resident of Queen Anne's county, Maryland, was accidentally shot by his brother Casper one day last week. John returned home late at night and attempted to scare Casper by announcing himself as a White Cap. The latter recognized his brother's voice and fired through the door, riddling him with buckshot.

Two workmen in a rolling-mill at Newport, Kentucky, were operating a derrick, last week Monday, and attempted to have a short sport by lifting the rope around another workman's neck and starting the machine. The hooking caught on an iron bar, pinning the man's neck against it and fatally injuring him. The name of the victim is John Tape.

FRANK SHANNON of Philadelphia has been rewarded for saving the life of a hyena. One of the hyenas at the Queen's Zoological Gardens recently swallowed a boy. Shannon entered the cage, thrust his arm down the hyena's throat and extracted the boy. The woman's branch of the Society for the Protection of Animals has given Shannon a gold medal.

Foreign.

THE Canadian parliament convened last week Thursday at Ottawa.

MINISTER PHILIPS sailed for America on the steamer "Lahn" last week Thursday.

THERE are 300,000 clerks in England—100,000 more than are needed. Some of them are paid starvation wages by reason of the excess.

ANOTHER traveler from the interior has turned up at Senking. He says that Pasha was captured by the dervishes, but escaped.

HENRY WHITE, secretary of the American legation in London, was on Thursday last week robbed of $35,000 worth of diamonds.

The fighting between the Germans and Arabs in East Africa still goes on. Great fears are felt for the safety of the captured missionaries.

THE French chamber of deputies last week Thursday passed a vote of confidence in the government by a majority of sixty, and the ministry will not resign.

Congress.

MONDAY, January 28.—The senate spent the entire session in discussing a motion to raise the ministers to St. James, Germany, Russia and France to the rank of ambassadors. Some of the senators advocated the abolition of the entire diplomatic service. No decision was reached. The house discussed the general condition of Alaska affairs and appropriated $50,000 for the education of Alaskan children.

TUESDAY.—In the senate the Samoan question was discussed with open doors. Senator Sherman made a long speech, giving his views of the case and his support of the adoption of the amendment to the diplomatic and consular bill, appropriating $500,000 to enable the president to protect American interests in the islands. The house appropriated $500,000 for the new library building.

WEDNESDAY.—In the senate the Samoan debate continued. Senators Reagan and Dolph advocated the reinstatement of Malletton, the king deposed by the Germans. The British extradition treaty was discussed with closed doors, but no vote was taken. The Oklahoma bill was considered in the house.

THURSDAY.—The Samoan amendments were agreed to without a division in the senate, after a debate, in which Senators Frye, Sherman and Reagan took the chief part. The house held a stormy session over the Oklahoma bill without reaching a final vote.

FRIDAY.—The British extradition treaty was rejected by the senate by a vote of thirty-eight to fifteen. In the house the Oklahoma bill passed by a vote of 148 to 92. The naval appropriation bill was passed by the house, with an amendment devoting $100,000 for a coaling station in Pago-Pago, Samoa.

Notes.

THE president on Friday transmitted to congress additional correspondence relative to Samoa, showing that in conformity with the Samoan Islands, $500,000, of which thereof as may be necessary, to be expended under the direction of the president, this appropriation to be immediately available. For the survey, improvement and occupation of the bay and harbor of Pago-Pago, the island of Tutuila, Samoa, and for the construction of the necessary wharves and buildings for such occupation and for a coaling station therein, under the direction of the president, $100,000, this appropriation to be immediately available.

night, the 29th, before Justice Lease and a jury, it being the first jury trial held in the village of two years. The case was for the recovery of a debt, which it was claimed Perry illegally held. Mr. Heath of Montpelier and Mr. Clough appeared for the plaintiff, while Mr. Wilkins of Stowe championed Perry's cause. The customary cloud of mystery, which is so often thrown about the proceedings of a trial, was prolonged through the night till nine o'clock the following morning, when a verdict was given to the defendant, from which an appeal was taken. The jury was made up for the most part of business men, who, notwithstanding the late hour, were not altogether pleasant, and though the case was comparatively close and the atmosphere comparatively hot, neither of the facts seemed to them to be in doubt. They looked as though they would willingly stock the plaintiff's farm with cattle if it would relieve them of the necessity of passing judgment on the disputed ownership of the heifer.

George W. Gordon will lecture on "An East Siberian Convict Mine" in the Congregational church Thursday evening, under the auspices of the lecture association. Mr. Kennan is undoubtedly the greatest attraction of the evening, having been a member of the salubrious were in such a miserable condition throughout the day of the missionary meeting, when an unusual number of strangers were in town. In justice to the audience, it should be stated that it was due to a misunderstanding rather than to any intentional neglect.

The missionary convention held at the Methodist Episcopal church last week Tuesday was a great success. There were seventeen ministers and a goodly number of Sunday-school superintendents and other laymen present. Every speaker was in attendance, and large numbers of attentive hearers were delighted, instructed and moved by eloquent addresses. Each address received its share of encomiums, but the great focus of interest was the address of Chaplain McCabe in the evening. Wednesday afternoon there was a revival service in the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted by Chaplain McCabe. A good audience was present and a spirit of fervor pervaded the meeting. Professor Fred A. Fernald, chief temple, and a corps of officers were installed by Deputy C. C. Robinson at the Good Templars' hall Monday evening.

BARRE.—John W. Gordon is at home from his recent business trip. The remains of Mrs. Sarah Page of Randolph were brought to Barre for interment last week.

Mrs. Page was a former resident of this place and is well known to the old citizens. The business men of this place met in the Barre Railroad Company's rooms in the granite block, Wednesday evening last, and proceeded to the organization of a Business Men's League. The following committee was elected to draw up by-laws and report to the next meeting, to be held this (Wednesday) evening: Charles A. Smith, Geo. L. Moore, O. B. Moore, L. Clark, G. J. Reynolds. The society held by the Ladies' Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church in the church vestry last Friday evening was a success. The playing of the organ, the singing of hymns, W. W. LaPoint and the reading by T. C. Smith were received with hearty applause.

H. E. Williams of South Royalton was in town last week. Fred Rosworth was in town last week, visiting his mother. He is at work in a drug store in Massachusetts. Services were held in the opera-house Sunday morning by the Presbyterians, Rev. E. Wilcox Cummings officiating. The Baptists held a service in the opera-house Sunday evening. Rev. G. L. Raymond preached to them. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church is to hold a social in the church vestry Friday evening. Everybody is invited.

Edwin Eaton of Montpelier was in town Saturday. The Central Water Boy enjoyed themselves last Saturday afternoon by taking a sleigh-ride in Quinby's big sleigh. Leland T. Powers and wife, and Louise Baldwin, gave a very excellent entertainment in the opera-house Saturday evening. They were greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. Mr. Powers gave the three-act drama, "David Garrick." Mr. Powers impersonated the character of Garrick, as some of the ladies were "your eyes closed you would be sure that a stage full of actors were before you." Mrs. Powers sang with her usual sweetness and expression.

The Sortwell band gave a promenade concert Saturday evening at the Central house. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is billed for Saturday evening at the opera-house. If you have any new items hand them to our representative at Barre, H. L. Ayerell. It is reported that James Brothers are to build a polishing-mill on South Main street. The J. H. Batchelder Company will rebuild the mill destroyed by fire at South Barre January 25th.

The thermometer registered forty degrees below zero Monday. The church societies seem to be in order at present. The "Y" society last Wednesday night, in the Universalist vestry, was pronounced to be one of the best they have given. The Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church held a chocolate tea Friday night. Hot chocolate and chocolate cake were served, packages of chocolates were offered for sale and a literary program was rendered. The Aid Society is to have an A B C society next Friday night in the Methodist Episcopal vestry. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society met with Mrs. J. R. George Tuesday afternoon and the "Y" and "Christian Temperance Union" is to meet this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Mrs. Dr. Briggs returned from Somerville, Mass., Monday afternoon, being called home by the illness of one of her girls, who had diphtheria. The Granite Court of the Equitable League of America was organized in Royal Arcanum hall last Wednesday night, with E. H. Glidden as justice.

E. A. Batchelder has sold his house on Addison place to William Hewed. WILLIAMSTOWN.—The mercury on Monday morning registered forty degrees below zero in some places. It is said that there was nothing like it last winter. Albert Bruce is very low, and may not live but a short time. Mrs. Lillian J. Hersey and family may start for Colorado next week. Her husband is improving in health in Denver, and has good prospects as a house-builder there.

Annie Dickerson, who was married to a man who died in the illness of one of her girls, who had diphtheria. The Granite Court of the Equitable League of America was organized in Royal Arcanum hall last Wednesday night, with E. H. Glidden as justice.

Simons, and Miss Minnie Perrin of Barre, a sister of Mrs. J. K. Lynde, were married at Mr. Lynde's residence, by Rev. F. W. Hamblin, on Wednesday evening of last week. Here's to a long life, full of the truly best things for them! Though some of our farmers even are burning coal in their homes, dry wood at present is in good demand, and high prices are being paid for parties have come from Barre to the house of Messrs. Jacob and Orlando Flint and paid $1.40 and $1.50 per cord for stove-wood, taking it there. The wife of one of our farmers says she is convinced that in dairying there can not be obtained from deep pans the amount of cream that can be gotten by putting the milk into shallow pans. Willie S. Davenport, a son of Rice Davenport, who was for a long time with the Fairbanks in St. Johnsbury, and is now in the scale works at Rome, Georgia, has just obtained a patent for a scale. He hopes for great things peculiarly from his invention. He writes that some of the employees of the scale works at Rome, went from this way are very homesick and longing for old Vermont. Our citizens are asked not to forget the grange free lecture by Colonel J. H. Brigham of Ohio at the town hall Friday evening at a meeting. James Wallbridge is again in the field as a teacher of vocal music. He has just finished a term in Chelsea and has begun one in the district near the Baptist church. Little Susie, second daughter of Dr. J. C. Briggs, is very sick with diphtheria. The case is regarded as hopeful.

Master Jason Martin has a hen who is too modest to cackle about her exploits beyond the precincts of her own roost-side, so Master Jason crows in her behalf, and this is the reason why: she has just laid an egg whose larger circumference is seven and three-fourths inches, the smaller five and seven-eighths inches. It wouldn't take many such eggs to make a dozen, and the president of the Montpelier & White River railroad informs us that the road will be extended to Royalton the coming season, and that before snow flies next winter trains will be running over the completed line. He also assures us that a road will be built this next season from some point on the line between Barre and this place to the granite quarries.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children, is the best medicine in the world. The best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never-failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teaching its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels and wind-colic. By giving health to the child it relieves the mother. Price twenty-five cents a bottle.

Twelve Pieces of Bone.

I had catarrh twenty-five years. Twelve pieces of bone, two of them over an inch long, came from my nose. My front teeth dropped out while perfectly sound, and my dreadful suffering need not be told. Two years ago I took four bottles of S. S. S. and I improved from the start. It made me well, and I have been well ever since.

CURED MY BOY. My little boy was cured of scrofula by Swift's Specific after he had taken a quantity of other medicines without the least improvement.

Addie, N. C., Nov. 23, 1888.

FATAL POISON.

For years I was afflicted with poisoned blood, which it seemed would result fatally, as nothing seemed to benefit me at all. At length I found myself in bed, a complete wreck; my body swollen out of proportion, covered with scales, and the pains and itching made life almost unendurable. The physicians failed to do me any good, and I was about to give up in despair when I began taking Swift's Specific. This medicine has cured me sound and well, and nothing else did it but S. S. S.

REV. R. U. MITCHELL, Pastor Cld. M. E. Church, Macon, Ga., Sept. 8, 1888.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC is entirely a vegetable medicine, and is the only medicine which has ever cured blood poison, scrofula, blood humors and kindred diseases. Send for our books on blood and skin diseases, mailed free.
